

MaxBotix – Electronic Communications Privacy Policy

Effective: APRIL 1, 2014

Your privacy is important to us, and we make every effort to protect your personal information. This Privacy Policy explains the types of information we collect, how we use that information, and with whom we may share your information. This Privacy Policy also explains what we do to protect the security of your information. Further, this Privacy Policy explains how you can contact us to update your contact information, remove yourself from our mailing lists, or get answers to any question you may have about our electronic communications privacy practices.

Electronic Communications

If you email us, we will store the content of your email (and any responses), as well as your email address. If you want to unsubscribe from further e-mails, please use one of the methods in this Privacy Policy to contact us; it may take up to ten (10) business days from receipt of your request.

If you place an order with us through this website or request sales information, we retain your information such as your name, email address, phone number, and information related to your request. We may thereafter send you an email regarding new product information and product updates, which you agree shall satisfy any legal requirements that such communications be in writing. You can unsubscribe to product updates and new product release information at any time by contacting us at the address, e-mail, fax, or telephone number below.

We may use the information you provide to us for internal purposes such as administration, product updates, marketing, and to comply with law. However, we will not disclose your personal information to any third party for marketing purposes without your prior written authorization. We may use “cookies” on our website to help us understand what website features are viewed more frequently; your internet browser should provide instructions on how to stop accepting cookies and/or disable existing cookies.

We will never sell your personal information, but may share such information as required by law and/or to prevent unlawful or illegal activity.

We reserve the right to revise this Privacy Policy at any time.
